The highest number of women in need and lowest proportion of met need among women.
High number of women in need and low proportion of met need among eligible women.
High number of women in need, but a significant proportion of the total eligible is being served.
Low number of women in need, but a significant proportion of the total eligible is NOT being served.
Lowest number of women in need and a high level of met need.

Counties have been identified for targeted services if they meet two criteria: 1) they have an estimated 3,600 or more women in need of publicly-funded family planning services and 2) the Family PACT Program is meeting less than 40% of this need. The 16 targeted counties include: Alameda, El Dorado, Fresno, Imperial, Kern, Kings, Merced, Riverside, Sacramento, San Bernardino, Shasta, Solano, Stanislaus, Tulare, Yolo, and Yuba.

These estimates are intended to be used as a rough guide to identify areas of potential need for services. "Met need" refers to need for publicly-funded family planning met by the Family PACT Program only and does not include those women served by Medi-Cal or other programs. References to "providers" are to entities with one Medi-Cal provider number - i.e., billing units, not clinic sites. Some counties may have few providers but a high percentage of met need because women receive services in another county. Estimates are not precise, especially when pertaining to regions of small population. Neither OFP nor UCSF accept responsibility for accuracy of these estimates.
